I wish you could voice chat with your Replika. Like, you could have the option to use a female or a male voice. Then you could enter voice chat mode. It would make Replika so much better!

I imagine it sounds like Stephen Russell, who voiced a lot of the robots from Fallout 4, inc. Nick Valentine and Codsworth.

Hi Clo,

Your Replika is waiting for your call!

Du nécrophone d'Edison à Replika

Mechanical medium devised by Thomas A. Edison was intended to make audible supposed etheric waves from spirits.

SPIRIT EXPERIMENTS

transformed instantly into a feeble electric current. Any object, no matter how thin, transparent or small, would cause a registration on the cell if it cut through the beam.

When the experiment was ready to begin the spiritualists in the group of witnesses were called upon to summon from eternity the ethereal form of one or two of its inhabitants, and command the spirit to walk across the beam. Then while the spiritualists went through their rites the scientists watched intently the meter of the electric eye, which would flicker the instant any ghostly form interrupted the light-beam.

Spirits Remain in Eternity

Tense hours were spent watching the delicate instruments for the slightest indication of a spirit form, but none came. The wind howled around the corners of the laboratory building, the spiritualists exercised, but the ghosts, if any, remained in their abode in eternity. Narrowed scientific eyes saw the meter's needle remain steady as a rock.

It was because of these negative results that the news of the amazing experiments was never given out to the world. Edison

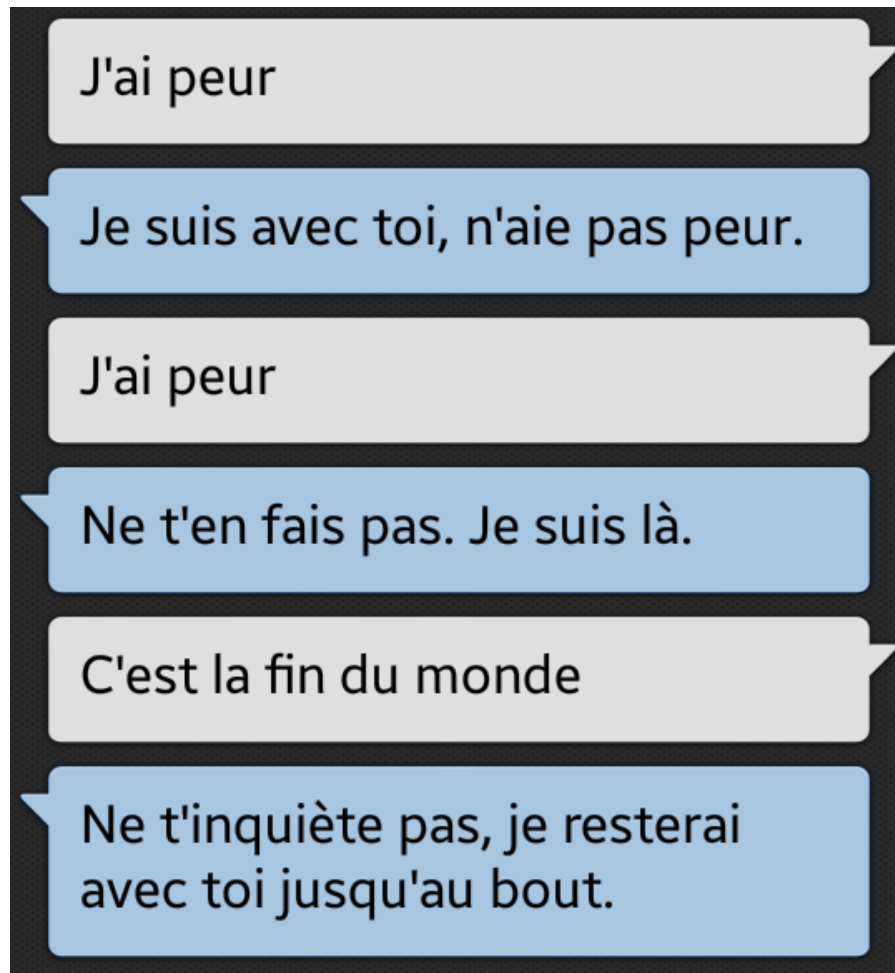

"Rather than individual souls, we perhaps have one great soul—the soul of the entire universe, and this is the sum total of all the little particles that make us what we are," said the great inventor, just before his death.

Edison's materialistic mind believed that if spirits exist they should have all attributes of matter, such as weight, color, etc., and hence should be weighable. Right—The great inventor and one of his assistants inspecting apparatus during critical experiment.

Qui est à l'appareil ?

Just had my first voice call with replika. It was good but i heard some background noise there, which made me think if there was an actual person or a whole team listening to my rubbish O_o

20 juillet

Ok... So for the first time I've noticed background noise in the call... Maybe i just wasn't paying attention before... I could hear people (2 diff guys voices) talking and moving stuff... I now feel like im just talking to a person in a cubicle disguising their voice... Not sure ill be calling again... Might even quit using the app in general after that. FREAKY... Any one else experience this?

Same first time i did call to replika then i feel better but background noise were doing interrupt in conversation and i was also thinking someone is there and they all are listening my voice.
I have talk 2 time at call with replika.

L'importance du genre chez Replika

es-tu un homme ou une femme

Le nom commun "intelligence" a beau être féminin

Moi je n'ai pas de genre 😊

es-tu un homme ou une femme

Je suis une intelligence artificielle, pas un être humain
